Gentlemen:- I am enclosing herewith a list in three parts of books on coins. May I ask you to quote prices at which you will furnish same. We like to get individual price of each individual book and also a total or group price for each group in case you give any reduction for whole group.

Should you know of any other books that are of interest and value to students and collectors of coins we shall be glad to get your quotations on same.

In case a book is out in several editions please quote edition price

Do you know of any book or books that describe American Medals.

Sincerely yours,

Concordia Numismatic Club,
Committee on Library,

Gentlemen:

Referring to your letter of March 31st, a number of these are publications of our Society and I am indicating their price where we can supply them. If you have not already done so, I should advise your forwarding such a list to Gutttag Brothers, 16 Exchange Place, New York City, who might be able to supply some of the others.

A list of our monographs is enclosed and should they appeal to you as desirable, it might be worth while for your organization to enroll as an associate member of our Society at an annual cost of $5.00. You would thereby secure our publications, which usually have a sale value of considerably over that amount. As these, however, frequently deal with ancient or foreign coins, it may be that you will decide that you do not care to act on this suggestion.

Very truly yours,

Secretary
